

Solve the following transportation problem by a two-phase process. First, set up an augmented network to find a feasible tree solution, using the * node as the special node. Then, in phase 2, solve for a minimum cost flow. If the network decomposes in Phase I (as described on pages 305-6), then solve each component of the decomposed network separately.

